

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LINKAGE ANNOUNCES NEW GLOBAL PARTNER – LINKAGE SOUTH AMERICA Argentina joins 15 other countries in exclusive partnership

Burlington, MA (November 28, 2011) – Linkage, a global organizational development company specializing in leadership has extended its global partner network to Argentina to form Linkage South America. Linkage works with leaders and leadership teams worldwide to build organizations that produce superior results. For over 25 years, CEO Phil Harkins and his team have delivered on this promise by strategically aligning leadership, talent, and culture within organizations globally. They do this by providing strategic consulting on leadership development and talent management topics and through learning institutes, skill-building workshops, tailored assessment services, and executive coaching.

“We are honored to be working with Silvia Haskler, who will be managing our South American office headquartered in Buenos Aires. Her experience in corporate training and consulting and strong language skills make her a great asset to our long list of Global Partners,” said Phil Harkins, Linkage’s CEO and Founder.

The recent addition of Argentina allows for Linkage products and services to be easily delivered and available to the South American market. As an analytical, client-oriented entrepreneur with over 25 years of experience, Silvia Haskler will lead the Argentina-based operations as CEO of Linkage South America. As founder and CEO of her own management and HR consulting firm in Buenos Aires, Haskler has been providing training services and tools for change management, organizational interventions (OIs) and outsourcing of HR processes for multinational corporations as well as small and medium enterprises throughout the South American market.

“I am delighted with the opportunity to partner with an organization that produces superior results. I am also pleased to now belong to a true network of innovative ideas, bright minds and research-backed resources. I am confident Linkage South America will succeed since its training and consulting offerings together with our understanding of the different national cultures are the best fit to meet the needs of organizations in contexts of permanent change. And finally, because we are bringing our own regional community of ideas, experience and minds to produce culturally adjusted results,” said Haskler.

Haskler holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology and multiple graduate courses and has lectured in renowned universities and seminars. She is a former psychology practitioner who has developed integral, multidisciplinary solutions to corporations which, at the moment, include managing two lines of business (SHCT and SHI).

Linkage's mission to connect high performing leaders and organizations to the futures they want to create has now a broader reach. With a relentless commitment to learning, Linkage offers learning summits, open-enrollment workshops, and distance learning programs on leading-edge topics in leadership, management, human resources, and organizational development.
