

Storytelling for Impact

Join the Linkage team as we gather together to explore the power of storytelling, in life, in leadership, and throughout history, specifically ancient Greek history. This in-hotel excursion is designed for those who are looking for an opportunity to revisit some of the most well-known leadership stories from ancient Greece, examine the values and lessons we take from them, and explore how we can craft our own leadership stories to inspire and motivate those we lead. Come prepared to dive in and engage with others—one leadership story at a time.
